

SANDRA PETERS – BILATERAL-DIAGONAL

03. – 28. NOVEMBER 2011

Sandra Peters works are based on her drawings, which are at the same time her experimental ground for the development of her space-orientated installations. In her drawings Sandra Peters explores the constellation of tensions and overlaps. At first glance the drawings that Sandra Peters does on graph paper seem to be determined purely by form, by the grid structure, but they also obtain an aesthetic significance as material. The general framework of the exhibition space is another question of her work when planning her installations. The prevailing circumstances of the exhibition situation have an effect on Sandra Peters' decision about how to realize the drawing in relation to the architecture.

BILATERAL-DIAGONAL is an installation related to the Y8 space and specifically produced for the exhibition series (Re-)locating the Self at Y8 (curated by Marc Glöde, Berlin). BILATERAL-DIAGONAL's initial point is the grid structure of the Y8 space on which Sandra Peters puts a second grid overlapping the basic structure. By modifying the second grid – not 8 is the numeric point of reference but 9 – dynamics will be released between both networks. The doubled grid allows an opening of the Y8 space and thus leads to a new spatial perception.
